

Congresswoman Debbie Halvorson hosted two McLean County small business owners in Washington, DC this week during national Small Business Week to testify before the House Small Business Committee about their business.

Tim and Katie Norman successfully used the Small Business Administration to grow their business and create jobs.

The Normans and Congresswoman Halvorson joined the BN Economic Development Council and WJBC Radio's BN Biz Radio Show on Tuesday to talk about the upcoming trip, and the opportunities available to small business owners through the SBA.

If you're a small business owner looking for assistance to grow your business through Federal government programs, please contact Congresswoman Halvorson's office at 815.726.4998. More information is also available at the small business section of this website.

Click here to listen to the podcast on WJBC.com.